NanoVox — Corpus v9 · Transcripts, batch 4 rev-2 (C-0201 to C-0250 of 600)

Every caller_ref resolves to a record in the v9 Member Master or Employer Contacts; the name spoken is the name on that record; a broker named aloud is that employer's broker of record; a tagged product line is one the group holds. Carrier is held per line on the Employer Master and is deliberately not spoken. Employer, industry, group size and renewal month join from caller_ref and are not repeated here.

Brad: Choice Administrators, Brad.

Dmitri: Dmitri Jaramillo, CON-109. Anthony Salerno sold us the chiropractic rider in January. I've seven people in Reno who say there's nothing there.

Brad: Landmark is concentrated in California.

Dmitri: Concentrated, or only?

Brad: Mostly California.

Dmitri: Which is it? Because seven people are asking me and I've been paying for them since January.

Brad: There'd be limited access out of state.

Dmitri: Limited meaning fewer providers, or none and no reimbursement?

Brad: It'd depend on the area.

Dmitri: Can you check Reno?

Brad: The directory would show that.

Dmitri: I've looked. It shows nothing. Is that the directory failing or is there genuinely nothing?

Brad: I couldn't say.

Dmitri: Then can you put me through to somebody who can? This is seven people and a rider I'm paying for.

Brad: There isn't a transfer for network questions.

Dmitri: A supervisor, then.

Brad: Nobody's available.

Dmitri: Right.

Pascal: Pascal Ishikawa, CB-7700032.

Nicole: Thanks Pascal.

Pascal: Marcus Trent told us at enrolment we get everything every year. I want to know what I'm actually due before I book.

Nicole: Then let me give you the three cycles, because they're not the same and that's where his version falls down.

Pascal: Go on.

Nicole: Exam every twelve months. Lenses every twelve months. Frames every twenty-four on your design. So in an odd year you get the test and lenses but not a new frame.

Pascal: So not everything every year.

Nicole: Not everything every year, and it's a common way of describing it that costs people money at the till. I'm recording it.

Pascal: Where am I?

Nicole: Exam last June, frames last June. So the exam and lenses are available now, frames not until next June.

Pascal: Can I put new lenses in the old frames?

Nicole: You can, and most people don't realise it — ask them to reglaze. It's covered and it saves you buying a frame you weren't due.

Pascal: That's exactly what I wanted to know. Thank you.

Omar: Omar Abernathy, CB-7700014.

Tony: Go ahead.

Omar: I've found an acupuncture clinic that says it takes Landmark. It isn't on your finder.

Tony: The finder is the carrier's directory.

Omar: So which is right — the clinic or the directory?

Tony: Let me look. Bear with me.

[waits]

[hold 2m 10s] Thanks for holding. I'm not seeing them listed.

Omar: They told me their provider number.

Tony: I can't verify a provider number from here.

Omar: Who can?

Tony: The carrier.

Omar: So I ring them and ask whether their own clinic is in their own network.

Tony: They'd confirm it.

Omar: And if they say yes and the directory says no?

Tony: The directory may not have refreshed.

Omar: Then the directory is unreliable and you're telling me to use it.

Tony: It's the list we have.

Omar: If I go on their word and they're wrong, what do I pay?

Tony: Out of network isn't covered on that line.

Omar: Not reduced — nothing?

Tony: That's my understanding.

Omar: Your understanding. So I could pay a hundred a session for eight sessions on your understanding.

Tony: I'd confirm with the carrier.

Omar: Right.

Oscar: Oscar Dragomir, CB-7700015.

Hugo: Thanks Oscar.

Oscar: I've been seeing a chiropractor for two months and I want to try acupuncture instead. Do I need to finish the course first, or tell anybody?

Hugo: Neither. You can switch whenever you like, you don't need permission and nobody needs telling. Same line, same network.

Oscar: No forms?

Hugo: No forms, no referral, no authorisation. It's the least administered benefit on the programme.

Oscar: And the cost?

Hugo: Same flat copay per visit either way.

Oscar: So there's no reason not to.

Hugo: One, and it's worth checking first. The two share a single annual visit maximum. Two months of chiropractic has already drawn it down, so acupuncture starts from what's left rather than from zero.

Oscar: How many have I used?

Hugo: That's live with the carrier and I can't see it. Ring them and ask for the combined count — combined specifically, or they may quote you one side.

Oscar: And if I'm nearly out?

Hugo: Then it's a conversation with the practitioner about spacing across the plan year, which is clinical rather than mine. But better had now than at session two.

Oscar: Sensible. Send me the maximum?

Hugo: Going out today.

REPEAT CONTACT — follows C-0181 | 29 Jul | closed resolved, practice did not rebill

Sarah: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Sarah speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Abel: Abel Fontaine, CB-7700053. I rang three weeks ago about being billed a hundred and ninety when the copay was sixty-five. You told me to go back to the practice. I did. They won't move.

Sarah: Then that changes what I do with it, and you were right to come back rather than pay.

Abel: They said the schedule is between them and the carrier and nothing to do with me.

Sarah: That's half true and the wrong half. The schedule is between them and the carrier — and it's precisely why they can't bill you above it. Their contract is what limits your liability.

Abel: So what now?

Sarah: Last time I gave you the schedule line and sent you to talk to them. That was the right first step and it hasn't worked, so this stops being your problem to argue.

Abel: Meaning?

Sarah: I'm raising it with Provider Relations as a balance-billing matter. That's them contacting the practice under the contract, not you asking them nicely.

Abel: Do I pay in the meantime?

Sarah: That's your decision and I won't make it. What I'd say is you owe sixty-five under the plan, and paying a hundred and ninety makes it considerably harder to get the difference back.

Abel: And if they send it to collections?

Sarah: Then tell me immediately and it escalates again. Don't sit on that one.

Abel: Thank you. Last time felt like being sent away politely.

Sarah: It was the right first step and I should have told you to come back if it failed, rather than leaving you to decide whether it was worth ringing again. I'm logging that.

Priya: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Priya speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Bram: Bram Ashby, CB-7700133. I rang three weeks ago about keeping my life insurance after redundancy and got told it just ends. Somebody at my union says that's wrong.

Priya: Your union is right, and I'm sorry you were told otherwise — the window is short and being told no can cost somebody the whole thing.

Bram: So there is something.

Priya: There's a conversion right. Within thirty-one days of your group cover ending you can convert to an individual whole life policy with no medical questions at all. No health check, no questionnaire.

Bram: None at all?

Priya: None. That's the value of it — if your health has changed since you were hired, this may be cover you can't buy anywhere else.

Bram: When did my cover end? My last day was the thirty-first of July.

Priya: Cover runs to the end of the month following, so the thirty-first of August. Your window closes on the first of October.

Bram: So I still have time.

Priya: You have six weeks, which is why I'm glad you rang back rather than taking the first answer.

Bram: Nobody has sent me anything.

Priya: Your certificate should have been issued at enrolment and the conversion notification is your former employer's responsibility. Neither seems to have happened, and I'm logging both.

Bram: What do I do?

Priya: I'm sending you the conversion request, the carrier's direct number and the first of October in writing. A date on a page rather than a rule in your head. Apply and pay the first premium before it.

Bram: And the cost?

Priya: Individual whole life usually costs considerably more than group term, so possibly a lot. But you'll be deciding with a quote in front of you rather than wondering.

Elena: Go ahead.

Xavier: I've been quoted eleven hundred dollars for a crown. I'm on the plan with fixed copays. That can't be right.

Elena: On the DHMO there's a copayment schedule.

Xavier: So what's the crown copay?

Elena: It depends on the crown type.

Xavier: Porcelain fused to metal, he said.

Elena: Let me check. Bear with me.

[waits]

[hold 2m 30s] Thanks for holding. There are several crown codes on the schedule.

Xavier: And the one he quoted?

Elena: I'd need the procedure code.

Xavier: He gave me a written quote. It says crown, porcelain fused to high noble metal.

Elena: That'd map to one of the codes.

Xavier: Can you tell me the copay for it?

Elena: I don't want to give you a figure from the wrong line.

Xavier: How many lines are there?

Elena: Several.

Xavier: Then read me all of them and I'll match it.

Elena: The schedule isn't displayed that way on this screen.

Xavier: So there's a document that says what I pay, you can see it exists, and you can't read it to me.

Elena: I can request a copy for you.

Xavier: How long?

Elena: Three to five days.

Xavier: He wants to book me for next week.

Elena: I'd wait for the schedule.

Xavier: Then request it, and I'll push the appointment.

Grace: Choice Administrators, Grace speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Marcus: Marcus Whitmore, CB-7700144.

Grace: Thanks Marcus.

Marcus: We've set up a family trust and I want the life insurance to go to it rather than to my wife directly. Is that allowed?

Grace: It is. A trust can be named as beneficiary and it's common where there are minor children or an estate plan behind it.

Marcus: What do you need?

Grace: The trust's full legal name, the date it was established, and the trustee. Getting the name exactly right matters more than people expect — a designation naming a trust that can't be precisely identified causes exactly the delay the trust was set up to avoid.

Marcus: I'll get the deed.

Grace: Take it from the deed rather than from memory.

Marcus: Anything else?

Grace: One thing worth raising with whoever drafted it. If you convert this cover to an individual policy later — on leaving, for instance — that's a new contract and you'd designate again. The trust doesn't follow automatically.

Marcus: I'd not have thought of that.

Grace: Most people don't, and it's the kind of thing that only surfaces at the worst moment.

Marcus: Send me the form.

Grace: Form and the fields I'll need from the deed, going out today.

Ursa: My maximum says seventeen fifty. Marcus Trent said it was fifteen hundred. Which is wrong?

Michael: Neither. Fifteen hundred is the plan maximum and seventeen fifty is yours, because you've accumulated a carryover.

Ursa: Meaning?

Michael: On your carrier, if you use less than a threshold in a year some benefit carries into the next. Usually two hundred and fifty, plus more again for staying in network.

Ursa: So it's a reward for not going.

Michael: For not needing much, and for staying in network when you did.

Ursa: Does it keep going up?

Michael: Up to a ceiling, and it stops accruing in a heavy year.

Ursa: And if I dropped the plan for a year?

Michael: You'd lose the accumulation entirely, not pause it. Worth knowing if you were considering it.

Ursa: I was, actually. Costs.

Michael: Then factor it in. I'll send you your accumulated figure so it's a number rather than an idea — it's usually more than people expect.

Alicia: Alicia Cruz, CB-7700134.

Adaeze: Thanks Alicia.

Alicia: My sister-in-law had something from her insurer where she could take part of her life cover early because she was terminally ill. Do we have anything like that?

Adaeze: You do. It's an accelerated death benefit and it's on your cover. Is this for you or for someone you're helping?

Alicia: For my husband. He's on my plan.

Adaeze: Then I'm sorry, and let me be careful with the detail rather than fast.

Alicia: Go on.

Adaeze: It allows part of the benefit to be paid during life where there's a terminal prognosis, usually certified by a physician at twelve months or less. What's paid early reduces what's paid later — it's the same money sooner, not extra.

Alicia: We understood that part.

Adaeze: A minimum face amount stays behind, so there's still a benefit at the end.

Alicia: Who applies?

Adaeze: It's his benefit and his election, so him or somebody with authority to act for him. If that becomes difficult, ring me and I'll find out precisely what the carrier accepts rather than guess.

Alicia: He's able at the moment.

Adaeze: Then start now while that's true. I'm sending the claim form and the carrier's direct number today — speak to them rather than through me, they handle these constantly and they'll be quicker.

Alicia: Thank you for being clear.

Carlos: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Carlos speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Sunil: Sunil Baptiste, CON-111. This is my third call about credits for three leavers. Nobody can tell me what's on my account.

Carlos: Let me read the history before you repeat any of it. Two calls, two notes, no case raised on either.

Sunil: So nothing was ever opened.

Carlos: Nothing was ever opened, and I'm not going to defend that. A note sits on a record. It doesn't go to anybody.

Sunil: Then can you actually look at the account?

Carlos: I can see what you can see — an adjustment line with no breakdown — and that's the real problem. The reconciliation detail sits in billing and neither of us can open it from here.

Sunil: So you're the third person who can't help.

Carlos: I'm the third person who can't read it out. I'm the first one raising a case. There's a difference and you'd be entitled not to care about it.

Sunil: Go on then.

Carlos: I'm opening a billing reconciliation with a case number and an owner, covering May to date, and asking for a line-by-line statement of every adjustment on the account. Not a total — a breakdown.

Sunil: How long?

Carlos: Ten working days is what they'll say. Because this is a third contact I'm flagging it for priority, which usually shortens it.

Sunil: And if it doesn't?

Carlos: The case number comes to you within the hour. Reply to that email and it comes back to me rather than into the general queue.

Sunil: Fine.

Carlos: I'm also recording that two calls produced notes and no case. If it happened to you three times it's happening to others once.

Danielle: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Danielle speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Saoirse: Saoirse Yamamoto, CB-7700039.

Danielle: Thanks Saoirse.

Saoirse: I've got a treatment plan for about two thousand eight hundred dollars and I want to work out how to do it without a nasty surprise.

Danielle: Then let's do it properly. Three things will decide the number, and two of them you control.

Saoirse: Go on.

Danielle: First, your maximum. Fifteen hundred on your design, and on MetLife preventive doesn't count against it, so cleanings haven't eaten it.

Saoirse: Good.

Danielle: Second, and this is the one that changes the total most — ask the practice for a pretreatment estimate. They submit the plan to the carrier and you get back, in writing, what's paid and what's yours, procedure by procedure. It isn't required, which is why they rarely offer it.

Saoirse: How long?

Danielle: Two to three weeks. On two thousand eight hundred that's worth waiting for.

Saoirse: And the third?

Danielle: Sequencing. If the estimate shows you'll exhaust the maximum, splitting the work across two plan years can save several hundred. That's a clinical decision for the dentist, but it's a question worth asking rather than assuming it all has to happen now.

Saoirse: Anything else I should watch?

Danielle: If x-rays are in the plan, tell them when you last had bitewings. There's a six-month frequency limit and a new practice won't know.

Saoirse: February.

Danielle: Then flag it, or you'll pay for a set you weren't due.

Saoirse: That's four things nobody told me. Thank you.

James: Thanks Perrine.

Perrine: My son's been recommended braces. What do I need to know before I agree to anything?

James: Three things, and I'd check the first before the orthodontist gets a treatment plan in front of you.

Perrine: Go on.

James: Whether ortho is available on your group at all. It depends on the carrier and the size of the employer, not just on the plan. Let me check... you're on MetLife at a hundred and twenty eligible, so yes, it's available.

Perrine: That's a relief.

James: Second, it's a lifetime maximum, not an annual one. So it doesn't reset — once it's used it's gone for good, for him.

Perrine: I'd assumed annual.

James: Almost everyone does, and on a multi-year treatment that assumption is expensive.

Perrine: And the third?

James: A waiting period, usually twelve months from your effective date. When did you join?

Perrine: Two years ago.

James: Then you're clear. Ask the orthodontist to submit a pretreatment estimate before you sign the finance agreement — ortho is almost always paid in instalments and you want the plan's share confirmed first.

Perrine: Nobody would have told me any of that.

James: I'll send the ortho terms for your design so you've got it in writing.

REPEAT CONTACT — follows C-0192 | 10 Aug | closed unresolved

Sarah: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Sarah speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Perrine: Perrine Okonkwo, CB-7700068. I rang a fortnight ago about eight hundred dollars of periodontal treatment denied for no authorisation. I was told to take it up with the carrier and left to it.

Sarah: Let me look at what happened rather than start again... I can see the denial and a note. No case, no reconsideration raised.

Perrine: So nothing has moved.

Sarah: Nothing has moved. Here's where I differ from the last call. You were told to contact the carrier, which is technically a route and practically useless — a member asking for a reconsideration on their own behalf, without the authorisation history, almost never succeeds.

Perrine: So what's different?

Sarah: Two things. First, I can see whether the referring dentist submitted anything, and nothing was received — so this is not a refused authorisation, it's an absent one. That distinction matters a great deal to a reconsideration.

Perrine: Because it wasn't my failure.

Sarah: Because it wasn't your failure and it's demonstrable. Second, I'm raising the reconsideration myself, with the referral date, the treatment date and the absence of a submission attached. Named owner, today.

Perrine: Will they pay?

Sarah: I don't know, and I'm not going to reassure you. What I can say is that it's being argued with the evidence rather than declined on a screen.

Perrine: And if they say no?

Sarah: Then the conversation moves to the practice that should have submitted it, and I'd help you frame that. One step at a time.

Perrine: Thank you. The last call felt like being shown the door.

Sarah: It was, and I'm logging it. I'm also recording that nothing in the welcome pack tells a member an authorisation is needed before a specialist — you were sent by your own dentist and had no reason to ask.

Terrence: Terrence Liu, CB-7700081.

Deon: Go ahead.

Terrence: My daughter turns twenty-six in November. When does her cover actually stop?

Deon: It's the end of the month following.

Terrence: Following her birthday, or following the month of her birthday?

Deon: Following the month.

Terrence: So if she's twenty-six on the tenth of November, cover runs to the end of December.

Deon: That would be the reading.

Terrence: Would be, or is? I'm trying to time a treatment.

Deon: Let me check the wording. Bear with me.

[waits]

[hold 2m 15s] Thanks for holding. It says end of the month following the twenty-sixth birthday.

Terrence: Which is what I said. So the thirty-first of December.

Deon: That's how it reads.

Terrence: Will she get a letter?

Deon: There's usually a notification.

Terrence: To her or to me?

Deon: To the dependent.

Terrence: She lives with us but the address on file might be her student one.

Deon: It'd go to the address held.

Terrence: Which is?

Deon: There's an address on file.

Terrence: Can you tell me what it is so I know whether the letter will reach her?

Deon: You'd check that through your employer.

Terrence: So the one letter that matters goes to an address neither of us can confirm.

Deon: I can note it.

Linda: Choice Administrators, Linda speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Yolanda: Yolanda Fraser, CB-7700041.

Linda: Thanks Yolanda.

Yolanda: A claim for contact lenses has been denied and the letter gives a code and nothing else.

Linda: Read me the code.

Yolanda: It's a three-digit one.

Linda: That maps to a benefit-already-used reason on our side. Let me check what's been paid this period... you had glasses in April.

Yolanda: Yes, but these are different.

Linda: They're the same benefit. Glasses or contacts in a period, not both — the hardware benefit covers one or the other and April used it.

Yolanda: Then why doesn't the letter say that?

Linda: Because it says a code, and that's a fair complaint. A denial that doesn't name the reason or the date the benefit resets is a letter that generates a phone call by design.

Yolanda: When does mine reset?

Linda: That I can give you — twelve months from your last exam, which I'll send in writing.

Yolanda: And is there any route to an exception? I've had a prescription change.

Linda: There can be, and it's a carrier decision rather than mine. A material prescription change sometimes opens the benefit early — but it has to come from the optometrist with the old and new prescriptions, not from you asking.

Yolanda: So I go back to them.

Linda: Back to them, and if they'll support it, it's worth submitting. I can't tell you it'll succeed and I won't pretend to.

Adaeze: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Adaeze speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Sandra: Sandra Peralta, CON-127. I rang about adding vision a few weeks ago and came away none the wiser. I'd like a straight answer this time.

Adaeze: Then here it is. Employer-sponsored vision can be added at any point in the year. It is not tied to your anniversary.

Sandra: That's all I needed six weeks ago.

Adaeze: I know. Chiro and life are once a year and at renewal, and if somebody was looking at that list without separating vision out, you'd get the answer you got.

Sandra: So what's the requirement?

Adaeze: Employer-sponsored needs seventy percent participation and a minimum of two enrolled. Voluntary has no minimum participation at all — vision is the only line where that's true.

Sandra: At two hundred and sixty people, seventy percent is a real commitment.

Adaeze: It is. Voluntary removes that risk for a first year entirely, at the cost of lower take-up because employees pay the full premium.

Sandra: Which would you do?

Adaeze: That's a budget decision and it isn't mine. What I'd say is voluntary first, then move at renewal once you know the numbers, because moving between voluntary and employer-sponsored is a renewal-only change and you'd want to make it with data.

Sandra: What can't you do?

Adaeze: Quote it. Rating goes through your broker or through sales, and I won't guess at a number for four hundred people.

Sandra: Fair. Flag it and send me the rules.

[hold 2m 05s] Thanks for holding. Your vision is through VSP.

Tony: The subscriber ID.

Uma: Is that the same number as the one on my card?

Tony: It should be.

Uma: Should be?

Tony: The number on the card is usually the subscriber ID.

Uma: Can you confirm it for mine?

Wilhelmina: Wilhelmina Venkatesh, CB-7700080.

Hugo: Thanks Wilhelmina.

Wilhelmina: I need a partial denture and I've been told there's a wait. I joined in February.

Hugo: Dentures are major services, so a twelve-month wait applies from your effective date unless a takeover credit was applied.

Wilhelmina: What's a takeover credit?

Hugo: If you had twelve consecutive months of comparable dental cover immediately before joining, the wait is waived. It's applied from a document and it's almost never mentioned to members.

Wilhelmina: I was out of work for eight months before this job.

Hugo: Then it wouldn't apply — the requirement is twelve consecutive months and there's no partial credit.

Wilhelmina: So February next year.

Hugo: First of February, yes.

Wilhelmina: That's a long time to go without teeth.

Hugo: It is, and I'm not going to soften it. What I can do is two things. If the dentist considers any part of this urgent rather than restorative, ask him to say so in writing — urgency is sometimes weighed differently and it's worth asking rather than assuming.

Wilhelmina: And the second?

Hugo: Your network pricing applies now, even with no benefit payable. An in-network dentist has agreed a rate that's twenty-five to fifty percent below their usual fee, and that applies whether or not the plan is paying.

Wilhelmina: So it's cheaper than I feared.

Hugo: Cheaper than full retail, and considerably cheaper than going out of network while you wait. I'll send you the date and that point in writing.

Wilhelmina: Thank you for not just saying no.

Danielle: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Danielle speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Gideon: Gideon Hollis, CON-106.

Danielle: Thanks Gideon.

Gideon: We're hiring about thirty people over the next quarter and I want to know if that puts anything at risk.

Danielle: Good question and almost nobody asks it in advance. Yes, it does, and in a way that's counterintuitive.

Gideon: Go on.

Danielle: You're employer-sponsored on both dental and vision, which means seventy percent participation. Thirty new hires are thirty people in the denominator from the day they become eligible, whether or not they enrol.

Gideon: So my percentage falls before it recovers.

Danielle: Exactly. Where are you now?

Gideon: Around seventy-six percent, I think.

Danielle: Then thirty non-enrolling hires would take you to roughly sixty-eight, which is under. It recovers as they enrol, but if the anniversary falls in the dip the carrier reviews you at the low point.

Gideon: When's our review?

Danielle: First of March.

Gideon: So if they start in October we'd be back up by then.

Danielle: Probably, and that's the word I'd use rather than certainly. What I can't do is model your workforce — that depends on how many of them take it.

Gideon: Can I do anything to help it?

Danielle: Make enrolment the default conversation at induction rather than a form in a pack. And consider your waiting period — a shorter one gets people enrolled sooner, though that's a renewal-only change and your window is February.

Gideon: Send me the current figure and the threshold?

Danielle: Both today, so you can watch it as they come on rather than find out in March.

Priya: Thanks Gideon.

Gideon: Patricia Nunez flagged that we'd see COBRA on the invoice and I should understand it before it appears. It has. There's a separate section with one person in it.

Priya: She's right to have warned you. That person elected continuation, and on this programme the employer is billed for COBRA participants, not the individual.

Gideon: So we pay for them.

Priya: You pay us. They pay you. That's the part nobody expects, and if you aren't invoicing them you're currently funding their dental.

Gideon: We aren't.

Priya: Then that's this week's job. There's a regulated maximum you can charge — the premium plus a small administrative percentage — and I'll send you the exact figure rather than let you guess.

Gideon: How long does this run?

Priya: You're a hundred and eighty eligible, so federal COBRA rather than Cal-COBRA. Shorter than Cal-COBRA for most events, but still months rather than weeks.

Gideon: And if he stops paying us?

Priya: You notify us and we cancel. Inside the regulated timeframe the credit comes back retroactively. Late, and you've paid for cover you can't recover.

Gideon: So there's a clock on that too.

Priya: There's a clock on most of it. I'll send the chargeable maximum, the cancellation route and the timeframe in one email.

Gideon: That's exactly what I needed.

Vidal: Nobody has ever told us that.

Carlos: It isn't in our standard leaver pack either, which is ours rather than yours, and I'm logging it. But the duty is still yours and I'd rather you knew that than were surprised twice.

Vidal: Is there anything for him?

Carlos: That's why I'm escalating rather than answering. A missed conversion notice where the member can show he was never told is not something I can decide and not something the carrier decides on a phone call.

Vidal: So there's a chance.

Carlos: There's a route. I'm raising it with a named owner today with his dates, the pack you sent, and the absence of any conversion notice from either of us. I'm not going to tell you it will succeed.

Vidal: How many others?

MEMBER · CB-7700132 | UNRESOLVED | score 46/100 | agent AGT-16|Ryan Castellano

Ryan: Choice Administrators, Ryan speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Yolanda: Yolanda Nasser, CB-7700132. My husband died in June. He was my beneficiary and I need to change it, and I also need to know what happens to the cover he had through his own job.

Ryan: The second one wouldn't be us.

Yolanda: I know. I'm asking who I ask.

Ryan: That'd be his employer.

Yolanda: They've told me to ask the insurer and I don't know which insurer.

Ryan: It wouldn't be on our system.

Yolanda: Fine. Then the change to mine.

Ryan: There's a form.

Yolanda: Can you send it?

Ryan: It'd come from your employer.

Yolanda: Can you not email it?

Ryan: We don't issue those directly.

Yolanda: I've buried my husband and I'm being sent round three organisations. Can I speak to somebody who can just do this?

Ryan: There isn't anyone available for beneficiary changes.

Yolanda: A supervisor.

Ryan: They'd say the same.

Yolanda: I'd like to hear it from them.

Ryan: I can put a note on.

Nicole: Choice Administrators, Nicole speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Bianca: Bianca Abernathy, CB-7700055.

Nicole: Thanks Bianca.

Bianca: I'm in Oregon for three months on a project. Can I see a dentist there?

Nicole: Not on your plan, and better you know now than at a reception desk. You're on the DeltaCare DHMO, which is California only and requires an assigned dentist.

Bianca: So nothing at all?

Nicole: Emergency care only, and out-of-area emergency is defined generously — thirty-five miles or more from your assigned practice, which Oregon comfortably is.

Bianca: And a routine cleaning?

Nicole: Not covered. That's the trade for the low copays.

Bianca: What if I move permanently?

Nicole: Then it changes completely. Relocating to an area your carrier doesn't serve is one of the few permitted mid-year plan changes — you could switch to the PPO, which travels.

Bianca: It's temporary. I'm back in December.

Nicole: Then the practical answer is have your cleaning before you go. It's covered here this month and it's a lot of admin there for something you can do next week.

Bianca: Sensible. And if something goes wrong out there?

Nicole: Emergency treatment, keep the itemised receipt, claim on return. I'll send you the wording.

Adaeze: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Adaeze speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Duncan: Duncan Raman, CON-102.

Adaeze: Thanks Duncan.

Duncan: We're bringing back four people who left in the spring. Do they serve the ninety days again?

Adaeze: Possibly not, but there are four conditions and all four have to hold, so let me give you them.

Duncan: Go on.

Adaeze: They completed your waiting period before. They were enrolled before. They're rehired within six months of losing cover. And they re-enrol in the same benefits.

Duncan: They finished in March.

Adaeze: Then cover ended end of April and six months takes you to end of October. Note it runs from when cover ended, not their last day — that's a month's difference and it catches people.

Duncan: All four were on dental.

Adaeze: And coming back on dental only?

Duncan: Two want to add vision this time.

Adaeze: Then the rule doesn't apply to those two. Adding a line means it isn't the same benefits, so they'd serve the ninety days as new enrolments.

Duncan: That's a trap.

Adaeze: It is, and it's worth telling them before they choose. They might prefer dental now and vision at renewal.

Duncan: And the other two?

Adaeze: Cover from the first of the month following rehire, no waiting period. I'll send the four conditions with the vision point flagged.

Grace: Choice Administrators, Grace speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Ahmed: Ahmed Steinberg, CON-121.

Grace: Thanks Ahmed.

Ahmed: We added life in July. Lucia Moreno told me only the people on dental need enrolling. I've got five who waived dental and I want to check before I file.

Grace: Good that you checked, because that isn't right. Every employee eligible for dental has to be enrolled in life, whether or not they took the dental.

Ahmed: So all five.

Grace: All five, with their own enrolment forms. Life is one hundred percent participation and one hundred percent employer-paid, so there's no opting out for anybody.

Ahmed: We're paying for them either way, then.

Grace: You're paying for them either way. The difference is whether they're actually covered, and right now five people you're paying for aren't.

Ahmed: That could have gone badly.

Grace: It does go badly, and usually at the worst moment. I'm recording the advice, because if he told you that he's told other clients the same.

Ahmed: How soon do I need the forms?

Grace: For a change to life, by the twenty-fifth of the month before the effective date. So the twenty-fifth of this month for the first of October.

Ahmed: I'll get them done this week.

Grace: I'll send the requirement in writing so you can show it to whoever queries it.

MEMBER · CB-7700120 | RESOLVED | score 83/100 | agent AGT-03|Danielle Park

Danielle: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Danielle speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Tamsin: Tamsin Boyd, CB-7700120. Three things really, and they're all life insurance.

Danielle: Take them in order.

Tamsin: I'm sixty-four. Stephen Vaught told us the cover stays flat. Somebody at work says it drops at sixty-five. And I've never seen a certificate, and I think my beneficiary is still my late husband.

Danielle: Then your colleague is right and your broker isn't, and the beneficiary is the most urgent of the three. Let me take them in that order.

Tamsin: Please.

Danielle: Group life reduces at set ages under a schedule — commonly at sixty-five and again at seventy. It isn't a penalty and it isn't optional, it's how the product is built. So the cover does not stay flat.

Tamsin: By how much?

Danielle: That varies by policy, and I'd rather send you your actual schedule than quote a typical figure you'd plan around. I'll request it today.

Tamsin: And the certificate?

Danielle: Should have been issued at enrolment and clearly wasn't. I'm requesting a copy, and I'm logging that it never reached you, because you're unlikely to be alone.

Tamsin: And my beneficiary?

Danielle: That's the one to fix this week. Let me check... it does still name your husband.

Tamsin: He died in 2022.

Danielle: Then the benefit would go through probate rather than to whoever you'd choose. A form changes it in five minutes, no consent needed from anyone.

Tamsin: I'd want it to go to my sister.

Danielle: Then name her. Form going out today with the schedule request behind it.

James: Choice Administrators, James speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Duncan: Duncan Raman, CON-102.

James: Thanks Duncan.

Duncan: Our finance director wants employee dental contributions to come out pre-tax. Is that something you offer?

James: It is — a Section 125 Premium Only Plan, and it's one of the very few things you can add at any point rather than waiting for renewal.

Duncan: What does it cost?

James: A one-off hundred dollars on the next invoice.

Duncan: And the effect?

James: Employee contributions come out before tax, so their take-home improves and your payroll taxes reduce. At four hundred and twenty employees it pays for itself in the first month several times over.

Duncan: Why has nobody suggested it?

James: It isn't offered proactively, which is a fair criticism and I'm noting it.

Duncan: Anything we need to do?

James: There's a plan document your finance director will want, and payroll has to be configured to deduct pre-tax. Both are straightforward but they're your side, not ours.

Duncan: Set it up and send the document.

James: Requesting it now, document going out today.

Linda: Choice Administrators, Linda speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Sunil: Sunil Steinberg, CB-7700054.

Linda: Thanks Sunil.

Sunil: I need a periodontist. The nearest one on the list is about fifty miles and I'm told anyone closer isn't covered.

Linda: Fifty miles is worth challenging rather than accepting. There's a provision on your plan for exactly this.

Sunil: Go on.

Linda: Where no network specialist is available within the lesser of thirty-five miles or an hour's travel, you can be authorised to see one outside the network at network benefit.

Sunil: Fifty is over thirty-five.

Linda: It is, which is why this is worth raising. But it isn't automatic — it has to be authorised before treatment, and the request comes from your assigned dentist, not from you.

Sunil: So I ask him.

Linda: Ask him, and use the words distance authorisation so he knows what you mean. He'll need the local specialist's details.

Sunil: And if the carrier says no?

Linda: Then it's fifty miles or out of network at your cost, and I'd rather you knew which before booking than after.

Sunil: How long does an authorisation take?

Linda: That I can't promise — it's the carrier's timescale, not ours. What I can do is note the query so there's a record of when you raised it.

Sunil: Do that. And send me the distance rule so I can show him.

Linda: Going out today.

Sarah: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Sarah speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Kirsten: Kirsten Kowalczyk, CB-7700010.

Sarah: Thanks Kirsten.

Kirsten: Two denials in one letter. My contacts and my eye exam in August. Marcus Trent told us we get both lots of hardware and full eye care.

Sarah: Then let me take them separately, because they're denied for completely different reasons and only one of them is arguable.

Kirsten: Contacts first.

Sarah: You took glasses in March. It's glasses or contacts in a benefit period, not both — one hardware benefit, and March used it. That denial is correct.

Kirsten: He definitely said both.

Sarah: He's said it to others too and it's recorded. The second one is more interesting. Your August exam was denied as not covered, and you'd had your routine exam in March.

Kirsten: This one was because of headaches. My GP sent me.

Sarah: Then it isn't a routine exam at all, it's a medical one, and it belongs to your medical plan rather than your vision plan. Which is better cover, not worse.

Kirsten: So I claim it elsewhere.

Sarah: You do, and ask the optometrist to code it medically in the first place next time. They usually can and they rarely ask.

Kirsten: Will they redo it?

Sarah: That's the bit I can't promise — rebilling is their decision, not mine. I'll send you the wording to ask with.

Kirsten: And the contacts?

Sarah: Nothing available until your period resets in March. I'll send you the date, and the twenty percent discount terms in the meantime.

Kwesi: Kwesi Lindgren, CON-119.

Priya: Thanks Kwesi.

Kwesi: I'm rewriting our offboarding checklist and I want to know what benefits items belong on it.

Priya: Best call I'll take this week, because almost everybody rings me after they've missed one. Four things.

Kwesi: Go on.

Priya: One, tell us about the termination on or after the last day worked, never before — a termination filed early can't be processed at all and fails silently.

Kwesi: We file when notice is given.

Priya: Then that's likely costing you. Change it.

Kwesi: Two?

Priya: Continuation. You're a hundred and ten eligible, so federal COBRA, and the notice is solely yours within fourteen days of cover ending.

Kwesi: We have that one.

Priya: Three is the one nobody has. Life conversion — thirty-one days from the day group cover ends, no medical questions, and the initial notification is also yours.

Kwesi: Not in our pack at all.

Priya: It's in almost nobody's, and it isn't in our standard leaver material either. I'm logging that as ours to fix.

Kwesi: And four?

Priya: Give each leaver the dates rather than the rules. A policy statement doesn't survive a redundancy conversation; a sheet saying your window closes on the thirtieth of November does.

Kwesi: Can you give me a template?

Priya: I'll send the four items with the date arithmetic spelled out, so whoever runs it doesn't have to work it out each time.

Hugo: Choice Administrators, Hugo speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Aurelio: Aurelio Pryor, CON-110.

Hugo: Thanks Aurelio.

Aurelio: Two employees have asked about braces for their children. Is ortho on our plan?

Hugo: Let me check, because availability depends on carrier and group size before any waiting period comes into it — it isn't universal.

Aurelio: We're ninety-five eligible.

Hugo: And you're on the DeltaCare DHMO with a Delta PPO alongside. On the PPO, employer-sponsored, ten or more enrolled — you clear that. So it's available.

Aurelio: Good. What do I tell them?

Hugo: Three things. It's typically covered at a percentage up to a lifetime maximum, not an annual one — so it doesn't eat the child's ordinary dental benefit.

Aurelio: That's useful.

Hugo: Second, on the DHMO side ortho requires a referral to a DeltaCare orthodontist, so whichever plan the child is on changes how they start.

Aurelio: And third?

Hugo: Check the waiting period against the child's own effective date before anyone signs a treatment plan. If they came from comparable prior cover there may be a takeover credit worth asking about.

Aurelio: They'll want numbers.

Hugo: I'll send you the ortho terms for both designs so you can circulate one document rather than answer twice.

REPEAT CONTACT — follows C-0170 | 21 Jul | closed unresolved

Carlos: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Carlos speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Vera: Vera Villalobos, CON-112. I rang in July about a termination that never applied and was told to resubmit. I resubmitted. It still hasn't applied, and there are two more now.

Carlos: Let me look at all three before you tell me anything else... all three were submitted before the employee's last day of employment.

Vera: We file as soon as they hand notice in.

Carlos: That's the whole problem, and nobody told you in July. A termination submitted before the last day worked cannot be processed. It doesn't queue and it doesn't apply later. It fails.

Vera: So resubmitting the same way was always going to fail.

Carlos: Always. I'm sorry — that advice cost you two months.

Vera: What do I do?

Carlos: File all three now, dated on or after each last day worked. I'll take the dates from you and enter them myself rather than send you back to the portal.

Vera: And the money?

Carlos: I'm raising a reconciliation back to July. Premium billed past a termination date comes back as a credit on a future invoice, not a refund. Don't short-pay in the meantime.

Vera: There's one more thing I've realised.

Carlos: Go on.

Vera: If you never knew they'd left, did the continuation notices go?

Carlos: That's exactly the right question and it's the more serious of the two. You're a hundred and twenty eligible, so federal COBRA — that notice was yours, not ours, within fourteen days of cover ending.

Vera: So it's on me either way.

Carlos: It is, but you'd have been working from an eligibility record that said they were still active. Check whether they went, and if any are late tell me and I'll route it rather than have you sit on it.

Vera: Thank you. That's the first time this has made sense.

Michael: Choice Administrators, Michael speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Kwesi: Kwesi Lindgren, CON-119. Follow-up from yesterday — do part-timers have to be in the life cover?

Michael: It turns on your own eligibility rule rather than the life rule. What hours threshold did you set?

Kwesi: Twenty a week.

Michael: Then anyone working twenty or more is eligible for dental, and anyone eligible for dental must be enrolled in life. So your twenty-plus part-timers are in.

Kwesi: And under twenty?

Michael: Not eligible for anything, so not in life either.

Kwesi: We've a handful around eighteen hours.

Michael: Then they're outside, and that's consistent — you're not paying for them and they're not covered.

Kwesi: Could I bring them in?

Michael: By lowering the hours threshold, which is a renewal-only change. And it would apply to everything, not just life, so it's a cost decision across all your lines rather than a small adjustment.

Kwesi: Worth modelling before March, then.

Michael: Before March, with the participation maths alongside it. I'll send the eligibility conditions so you're working from the actual wording.

Ryan: Choice Administrators, Ryan speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Xiomara: Xiomara Winters, CB-7700078. I need a crown and I'm told I'm inside a twelve-month wait. I had dental continuously before this job.

Ryan: The wait is twelve months from your effective date.

Xiomara: Denise Whitfield told us prior coverage carries over.

Ryan: The record shows a waiting period.

Xiomara: Is there a credit for prior coverage or not?

Ryan: There can be provisions.

Xiomara: Can you check whether one applies to me?

Ryan: It'd show on the record if it had been applied.

Xiomara: And if it hasn't been applied but should have?

Ryan: It'd be as submitted at enrolment.

Xiomara: So nobody checks afterwards.

Ryan: It's set at enrolment.

Xiomara: Can somebody look at it again? A supervisor, or whoever handles enrolments?

Ryan: There isn't a transfer for that.

Xiomara: It's a nine hundred dollar crown.

Ryan: I can note the query.

Xiomara: Note it.

EMPLOYER · CON-105 | RESOLVED | score 85/100 | agent AGT-03|Danielle Park

Danielle: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Danielle speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Lorna: Lorna Sarkisian, CON-105.

Danielle: Thanks Lorna.

Lorna: An employee who waived dental in January has had a big bill and is saying he never declined. Stephen Vaught says it's our word against his and not to worry.

Danielle: I'd worry, and I'd rather tell you why than reassure you.

Lorna: Go on.

Danielle: Under the state code the employer has to obtain and retain a written waiver. If no waiver was obtained and the employee later seeks coverage, the employer can be held liable for the healthcare costs they incur.

Lorna: So it isn't our word against his.

Danielle: It's whether you hold a signed document. Do you?

Lorna: I'd have to look.

Danielle: Then that's the first thing to do today. I'm not telling you you're liable — that depends on facts I can't see and it's a question for your own counsel. I'm telling you the exposure exists so it's treated seriously rather than as a billing argument.

Lorna: And if we don't have one?

Danielle: Then take it to your advisor, not to your broker. And go through everyone who isn't enrolled and collect waivers now — it doesn't fix the past but it stops this next year.

Lorna: Can he be enrolled now?

Danielle: Not mid-year without a qualifying event. Renewal is the earliest.

Lorna: Send me the form and the wording.

Danielle: Form, the relevant paragraph of the guide, and the requirement in plain terms. Going out today.

Nicole: Choice Administrators, Nicole speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Idris: Idris Ruiz, CB-7700084.

Nicole: Thanks Idris.

Idris: My annual maximum has gone down more than I expected and I've only had cleanings and x-rays.

Nicole: Let me check the design, because this genuinely differs between carriers and it's worth knowing which side yours falls on.

Idris: Denise Whitfield said cleanings never count.

Nicole: On your design preventive doesn't count against the maximum, so she's right about cleanings. But x-rays are usually classified as diagnostic, and on some designs those do count.

Idris: So the x-rays.

Nicole: Let me look... yes. A hundred and ten of the movement is x-rays.

Idris: Nobody distinguishes those two things when they talk about it.

Nicole: No, and preventive and diagnostic get used interchangeably when they're separate categories with different treatment. I'm recording it.

Idris: Does it matter much?

Nicole: Only if you're planning major work. Are you?

Idris: A crown in November.

Nicole: Then it matters, because you'll want the maximum intact. Worth asking whether the next set of x-rays can wait until January.

Idris: I'd never have thought to ask.

Nicole: I'll send your current position so you can plan November with the actual number.

MEMBER · CB-7700026 | RESOLVED | score 82/100 | agent AGT-07|Linda Braithwaite

Linda: Choice Administrators, Linda speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Kamal: Kamal Arellano, CB-7700026.

Linda: Thanks Kamal.

Kamal: I need glasses for work and a pair for driving and I've got about three hundred dollars. What does that get me?

Linda: Let me set out what the plan does so you can spend it deliberately rather than find out at the till.

Kamal: Go on.

Linda: One covered pair per period. A fixed copay, a frame allowance which is a budget not a discount, and lenses on their own schedule. Anything on top of the base lens — progressive, anti-reflective, thinner lenses — carries its own copay and that's where bills grow.

Kamal: And the second pair?

Linda: Not a benefit, but there's twenty percent off additional glasses from any VSP doctor within twelve months of your exam. So the driving pair isn't free but it isn't full price.

Kamal: How much will the first pair cost me?

Linda: That I can't tell you precisely, and I'd rather say so — the enhancement copays sit in the carrier's schedule at a detail I don't hold, and a wrong number would have you budgeting badly.

Kamal: So how do I find out?

Linda: Ask the practice for a benefit breakdown before they order. Two minutes, itemised, before you commit. Then you'll know exactly what's left of your three hundred for the second pair.

Kamal: And if I choose a cheaper frame?

Linda: Then more of the allowance covers it and more of your money goes to the driving pair. Which is the sort of decision people only get to make if they see the breakdown first.

Kamal: That's the most practical answer I've had. Thank you.

MEMBER · CB-7700097 | PARTIALLY RESOLVED | score 80/100 | agent AGT-11|Grace Adeyemi

Grace: Choice Administrators, Grace speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Jerome: Jerome Haddad, CB-7700097.

Grace: Thanks Jerome.

Jerome: My wife has been diagnosed with something serious. She's on my life cover as a dependent. Can we access anything early?

Grace: I'm sorry to hear that. Let me be careful here rather than give you a hopeful answer that turns out to be wrong.

Jerome: Go on.

Grace: The accelerated death benefit exists on this programme, but it attaches to the covered person's own benefit. Dependent life cover, where it exists, is usually a small fixed amount and the acceleration provision often doesn't extend to it.

Jerome: So probably not.

Grace: Probably not, and I'd rather you heard probably than a yes you then lose. What I can do is check the specific provision on your certificate rather than tell you what's typical.

Jerome: Please.

Grace: I'm requesting it today. Two things in the meantime that may matter more.

Jerome: Go on.

Grace: If she has cover of her own anywhere — a previous employer, an individual policy — that's where an acceleration is most likely to sit, and it's worth finding out now rather than later.

Jerome: She had a policy at her old job.

Grace: Then check whether it was converted when she left. If it was, that's a live policy with its own provisions.

Jerome: And the second thing?

Grace: Your own beneficiary designation. People in this situation often find it's out of date, and it's five minutes to fix.

Jerome: It names her.

Grace: Then leave it and we'll deal with the rest. I'll come back to you on the certificate either way.

James: Choice Administrators, James speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Yolanda: Yolanda Hollis, CB-7700079.

James: Thanks Yolanda.

Yolanda: I've never had a dental card and I enrolled in January.

James: First thing — you're active, so whatever else has happened you have cover. The card is a convenience, not the coverage.

Yolanda: That's something.

James: Second thing, and it's probably your whole answer. On your carrier cards aren't posted to members at all. They go to the employer in a batch and the employer distributes them.

Yolanda: So it's sitting in an office somewhere.

James: Very likely. Only two of our carriers post direct to the member and yours isn't one of them.

Yolanda: Eight months of watching the post.

James: And no reason you'd have guessed, because the mailer doesn't tell you where the card went. I'm logging that.

Yolanda: What do I do now?

James: I'm sending you a digital card in the next few minutes — most practices prefer it on a phone anyway. And ask whoever handles HR whether there's an unopened envelope from January.

Yolanda: And if there isn't?

James: Ring me back and I'll have a replacement batch raised. But check first.

Yolanda: Thank you. That's the first useful answer.

Hugo: Choice Administrators, Hugo speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Vera: Vera Quintero, CB-7700074.

Hugo: Thanks Vera.

Vera: I've been seeing a chiropractor since March and it isn't helping. I want to try acupuncture. Do I need to do anything?

Hugo: Nothing at all. Same line, same network, no referral, no authorisation, and you can switch without telling anybody.

Vera: I thought they were separate benefits.

Hugo: They're one benefit with two kinds of practitioner, which is the thing nobody explains. The name on most of the paperwork says chiropractic and the acupuncture half gets lost.

Vera: So my visits carry over?

Hugo: Your visits count against one shared annual maximum, so what you've used on chiropractic has already come off it. That's the bit worth checking before you commit to a course.

Vera: Since March, twice a month.

Hugo: Then you've used a meaningful share. Ring the carrier and ask for the combined used and remaining count — ask for combined specifically or they may quote you one side.

Vera: And if there's not much left?

Hugo: Then it's a conversation with the practitioner about spacing across the plan year. Worth having before session one.

Vera: Anything else?

Hugo: If she offers herbs, they're not covered unless your employer took the rider, and almost none do. Ask what they cost separately.

Vera: Good to know. Thank you.

Grace: Grace Baptiste, CB-7700012.

Adaeze: Thanks Grace.

Grace: I travel for work — Arizona and Nevada mostly. Marcus Trent said the chiropractic works anywhere. Does it?

Adaeze: It doesn't, and it's better you hear that now than at a reception desk in Phoenix. Landmark's insured plans are California only.

Grace: So reduced cover out there.

Adaeze: No cover out there. They don't pay for out-of-network services at any rate, so you'd carry the whole cost.

Grace: That's a flat contradiction of what we were told.

Adaeze: It is, and I'm recording it. He'll have said it to the room.

Grace: So what do I actually do?

Adaeze: Use it when you're home. There's no referral and no authorisation, so you can book same-day around your travel rather than planning weeks ahead.

Grace: I'm home maybe one week in three.

Adaeze: Then the practical thing is to concentrate treatment in those weeks, and to know your annual maximum before you plan it — visits are capped and shared with acupuncture.

Grace: Can you tell me the cap?

Adaeze: I'll send your design's number today. The used count is live and sits with the carrier, so ring them for that.

Grace: At least I know where I stand. Thank you.

Vera: Vera Villalobos, CON-112. Following on from last week — the credits have appeared and I want to check they're right before I close it off.

Michael: Good. Read me what you're seeing.

Vera: Three lines with XE against them and a credit total of four hundred and eighteen.

Michael: XE is a cancelled employee, so those are your three terminations. The total is the premium billed past each termination date.

Vera: How do I check the arithmetic?

Michael: Take each person's termination date, count the months billed after the end of the month following it, and multiply by their monthly premium. If it matches, it's right.

Vera: And if it doesn't?

Michael: Ring me with the discrepancy rather than the whole statement, and it's a five-minute conversation rather than a reconciliation.

Vera: What about the COBRA notices I was checking?

Michael: Did they go?

Vera: Two did. One was eight days late.

Michael: Eight days is inside the fourteen, so that one is fine. I'd document that you checked, because a record of having looked is worth having.

Vera: That's a relief.

Michael: And change the filing habit — on or after the last day, never before. That's what caused all of it.

Sarah: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Sarah speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Emeka: Emeka Abernathy, CB-7700011.

Sarah: Thanks Emeka.

Emeka: One letter, two refusals — x-rays and a crown — and it gives the same reason code for both, which can't be right.

Sarah: It isn't right, and the two are refused for completely different reasons. Let me separate them, because one is arguable and the other isn't.

Emeka: Start with the x-rays.

Sarah: Frequency. One series of bitewings per six-month period, and you had a set in May. July falls inside it.

Emeka: I changed dentist in June. The new one took them without asking.

Sarah: They can request a benefit history before treating and many don't. That denial is correct, unfortunately.

Emeka: And the crown?

Sarah: That's the major-service waiting period, twelve months from your effective date, which is a completely different rule from the frequency one. Sharing a reason code between them is a defect in the letter and I'm logging it.

Emeka: When am I past it?

Sarah: First of February.

Emeka: Nothing I can do before then?

Sarah: On the crown, no — unless you had comparable dental immediately before joining, in which case there's a takeover credit worth checking. Did you?

Emeka: I was out of work for six months first.

Sarah: Then it wouldn't qualify — it needs twelve consecutive months. I'd rather say that than have you chase a certificate for nothing.

Emeka: At least I know. And the tooth is painful now.

Sarah: Then ask the dentist whether an interim restoration is possible. Basic services aren't waiting, and people sit in pain assuming nothing is available.

Tony: Choice Administrators, Tony speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Wilhelmina: Wilhelmina Lindgren, CB-7700016.

Tony: Go ahead.

Wilhelmina: I turned up for my session this morning and was told I've no visits left. No warning, nothing.

Tony: There's an annual maximum.

Wilhelmina: I understand that now. What I want to know is how many I had and how many I used.

Tony: The maximum is on your benefit summary.

Wilhelmina: Which I don't have. Can you tell me the number?

Tony: Let me check the design. Bear with me.

[waits]

[hold 2m 20s] Thanks for holding. There's an annual visit maximum on the line.

Wilhelmina: And the number?

Tony: I'd rather confirm it's the current design before quoting.

Wilhelmina: Is there more than one design on my group?

Tony: Groups can have variations.

Wilhelmina: Can you see which one I'm on?

Tony: I can see the line.

Wilhelmina: Then how does anyone ever find out their own number?

Tony: The carrier holds the usage.

Wilhelmina: I'm not asking about usage. I'm asking what my limit is, which is a property of my plan, which you administer.

Tony: It's on the benefit summary.

Wilhelmina: Can I speak to somebody who can read one to me?

Tony: There isn't a transfer for benefit queries.

Wilhelmina: Then I've been turned away from an appointment and nobody here can tell me why.

Tony: I can request the summary.

Wilhelmina: Request it.

Priya: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Priya speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Bianca: Bianca Fraser, CB-7700040.

Priya: Thanks Bianca.

Bianca: I want to plan this properly rather than turn up and hope. What do I actually get in a year?

Priya: Then let me give you the whole shape, because almost nobody asks in advance and it's the call that saves people the most.

Bianca: Go on.

Priya: An exam every twelve months. One hardware benefit per period — glasses or contacts, not both. A fixed copay, a frame allowance that's a budget rather than a discount, and lenses on their own schedule with enhancements charged separately.

Bianca: So if I take contacts I lose the glasses.

Priya: For that period, yes. It's the single most misunderstood thing on a vision plan.

Bianca: What about my daughter?

Priya: Her own exam, her own allowance, her own lens benefit. It isn't a family pot, and people delay taking a child in because they assume it eats theirs.

Bianca: That's worth knowing. Anything else?

Priya: Two. Twenty percent off additional glasses within twelve months of your exam, which most people never hear about. And if you only need new lenses, reglazing your existing frames is covered — lenses run on the twelve-month cycle even when frames are on twenty-four.

Bianca: When's my exam due?

Priya: From the eighth of October.

Bianca: And my frames?

Priya: Next October — yours is a twenty-four month cycle, so this year is lenses only unless you pay for a frame.

Bianca: That's exactly what I needed. Thank you.
