NanoVox — Corpus v9 · Transcripts, batch 3 (C-0151 to C-0200 of 600)

Every caller_ref resolves to a record in the v9 Member Master or Employer Contacts; the name spoken is the name on that record; a broker named aloud is that employer's broker of record; a tagged product line is one the group holds. Carrier is held per line on the Employer Master and is deliberately not spoken. Employer, industry, group size and renewal month join from caller_ref and are not repeated here.

EMPLOYER · CON-113 | ESCALATED | score 88/100 | agent AGT-02|Carlos Mendez

Carlos: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Carlos speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Zadie: Zadie Yamamoto, CON-113.

Carlos: Thanks Zadie. Go ahead.

Zadie: We've had a death in service and the family are asking about the life benefit. The employee isn't showing as enrolled in life, but we have life on the group and it's employer-paid.

Carlos: Let me stop you there and look properly, because that combination shouldn't exist. One moment... you're right. Life is on the group, it's one hundred percent employer-paid and one hundred percent participation, and he is not on the life roster.

Zadie: How is that possible?

Carlos: He waived dental. And this is the rule that catches groups out — every employee eligible for dental has to be enrolled in life whether or not they take the dental. A separate enrolment form is required for each.

Zadie: Nobody has ever told us that.

Carlos: Then let me check the scale of it before we talk about him. How many people waived dental?

Zadie: Fourteen, I think.

Carlos: I'm showing fourteen waivers and none of the fourteen on the life roster. So this isn't one person, it's fourteen.

Zadie: Fourteen people who think they have life cover and don't.

Carlos: Fourteen people whose employer is paying for a benefit that was never enrolled. Which is worse than it sounds, because the money went out.

Zadie: And the family?

Carlos: That's not mine to answer and I won't guess at it. What I'm doing is escalating this today on two tracks rather than one. Operations get the fourteen missing enrolments as an urgent correction. And the death claim goes to the carrier with the full history attached — the group election, the premium paid, and the reason the enrolment never landed.

Zadie: Will they pay?

Carlos: I don't know, and I'd rather say that than reassure you. What I can tell you is the facts that support the family are on the record and going with it, rather than the claim being declined on a roster search.

Zadie: What do I do about the other thirteen?

Carlos: Enrolment forms this week. And I'm logging separately that nothing in our process cross-checks dental waivers against the life roster, because if it happened here it is happening elsewhere.

Zadie: Thank you. That's the first straight answer today.

Deon: Go ahead.

Quentin: I want to add vision. When can I do it?

Deon: Most changes are at renewal.

Quentin: Somebody told me vision was different.

Deon: Some lines can be added at other points.

Quentin: Is vision one of them?

Deon: Let me check the change matrix. Bear with me.

[hold 2m 40s] Thanks for holding. There's a list of what changes when.

Quentin: And where does vision sit?

Deon: It depends whether it's employer-sponsored or voluntary.

Quentin: Employer-sponsored.

Deon: Then it may be available outside renewal.

Quentin: May be, or is?

Deon: It's listed differently from chiro and life.

Quentin: Differently how?

Deon: Those are once a year.

Quentin: So vision isn't once a year.

Deon: It isn't on that line, no.

Quentin: Then can I add it in August?

Deon: You'd need to submit a request.

Quentin: Would it be accepted?

Deon: It'd be reviewed.

Quentin: I've got four hundred and twenty people and I'm trying to plan a communication. I need a yes or a no.

Deon: I'd submit and see.

Quentin: That's not a plan. I'll ask my broker.

Tony: Go ahead.

Sunil: I was told in May that credits for three leavers would appear on the next invoice. They haven't, on two invoices.

Tony: Credits post after the termination processes.

Sunil: The terminations processed in May. I checked.

Tony: Then it'd be on a subsequent statement.

Sunil: Subsequent to which one? I've had two since.

Tony: Let me look at the account. Bear with me.

[hold 2m 25s] Thanks for holding. I can see the terminations.

Sunil: And the credits?

Tony: I can see an adjustment line.

Sunil: For how much?

Tony: There's an adjustment on the account.

Sunil: Is it for the three leavers, and is it the right amount?

Tony: It'd relate to the terminations.

Sunil: Would, or does? Because if it's eighteen dollars it isn't three people's dental for two months.

Tony: I'd have to break it down.

Sunil: Please do.

Tony: It isn't broken out on this screen.

Sunil: Whose screen is it broken out on?

Tony: Billing would have the detail.

Sunil: Can you ask them?

Tony: You'd email them.

Sunil: I emailed them in June.

Tony: Then it may be in their queue.

Sunil: So I've a credit I can't identify, on an account I can't reconcile, and the only route is a queue I'm already in.

Tony: I can add a note.

Elena: Choice Administrators, Elena speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Uma: Uma Castellanos, CB-7700059. Patricia Nunez gave us a summary at enrolment which said a hundred and thirty on frames, so I budgeted for that.

Elena: And what happened?

Uma: The frame was two hundred and forty and I paid a hundred and ten. I'd expected to pay about thirty.

Elena: The allowance is a hundred and thirty.

Uma: Yes. So a hundred and thirty off two hundred and forty.

Elena: The allowance applies to the frame.

Uma: Applies how? Is it a hundred and thirty off, or does it pay a percentage?

Elena: It's the allowance amount.

Uma: Then a hundred and thirty off two hundred and forty is a hundred and ten, which is what I paid. So the summary was right and the price was just higher than I thought.

Elena: That would be the arithmetic.

Uma: So why did I expect thirty? Because I thought there was a discount on the balance as well.

Elena: There can be a discount.

Uma: Is there one on mine?

Elena: Let me check. Bear with me.

[waits]

[hold 2m 10s] Thanks for holding. There's a saving listed on the plan.

Uma: Applied to what?

Elena: To amounts over the allowance.

Uma: Then I should have paid less than a hundred and ten.

Elena: It depends whether the practice applied it.

Uma: Can you tell me whether they did?

Elena: Not from the claim, no.

Uma: So either I've been overcharged by twenty-odd dollars or I haven't, and nobody can say.

Elena: You'd ask the optician.

Uma: Right.

MEMBER · CB-7700060 | RESOLVED | score 84/100 | agent AGT-03|Danielle Park

Danielle: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Danielle speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Wilhelmina: Wilhelmina Fontaine, CB-7700060.

Danielle: Thanks Wilhelmina.

Wilhelmina: I'm going for glasses tomorrow and Patricia Nunez's summary says a hundred and thirty on frames. I want to know what else I'll be paying so I'm not caught out.

Danielle: Good instinct, and the summary is right as far as it goes. Three things sit alongside it.

Wilhelmina: Go on.

Danielle: A copay, fixed. The frame allowance, which is a budget and not a discount — over a hundred and thirty you pay the difference. And lenses, which run on their own schedule separate from the frame.

Wilhelmina: It's the lenses I know nothing about.

Danielle: That's where the surprises live. The base lens is covered. Anything on top — progressive, anti-reflective, the thinner high-index lenses, a light-reactive tint — carries its own copay or isn't covered at all.

Wilhelmina: I have progressives.

Danielle: Then ask for that price on its own before you choose a frame, because it's usually the largest single number on the bill and it has nothing to do with the allowance.

Wilhelmina: Can you tell me what mine costs?

Danielle: That's the one I can't, and I'd rather be straight about it. Enhancement copays sit in the carrier's schedule at a level of detail I don't hold, and a wrong figure tomorrow is worse than no figure.

Wilhelmina: So what do I do?

Danielle: Ask the practice for a benefit breakdown before they order. Any VSP office can run one, it takes two minutes, and it itemises what the plan pays and what's yours. Ask by name.

Wilhelmina: Nobody has mentioned that in six years.

Danielle: They rarely volunteer it. I'm sending you your allowances and that wording now, so you can show it at the desk rather than remember it.

Sarah: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Sarah speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Xiomara: Xiomara Ashby, CB-7700036. Three things, and I think they're all connected to the same misunderstanding.

Sarah: Take them in order.

Xiomara: Stephen Vaught told us at enrolment that vision covers glasses, contacts and eye health. I've taken contacts, I now want glasses, and separately my optometrist found something and referred me — and none of it seems to work the way he said.

Sarah: Then let me unpick all three, because he gave you a version that is true in outline and wrong in every detail that matters.

Xiomara: Start with the glasses.

Sarah: Glasses or contacts in a benefit period, not both. Taking contacts in March used the hardware benefit, so the frame allowance is on the plan and spent for you. Those are different things and our own screens show them in the same place, which doesn't help.

Xiomara: So no glasses until when?

Sarah: Your period resets twelve months from the exam. I'll send you the date.

Xiomara: Second thing — the referral.

Sarah: That's not a vision benefit at all. Vision covers the routine exam and the hardware. A medical eye condition belongs to your medical plan, and the referral your optometrist wrote is the document that gets it covered there.

Xiomara: He said eye health was included.

Sarah: The exam that detects it is included. The treatment isn't, and those get described as the same thing far too often. I'm recording that.

Xiomara: And the third — the optician couldn't find me.

Sarah: Almost certainly because they searched ChoiceBuilder rather than the carrier. ChoiceBuilder is the programme; the network is VSP. It's the single most common reason a provider can't locate somebody here.

Xiomara: So all three come back to being told the wrong thing at the start.

Sarah: All three. I'm sending you a digital card with the carrier at the top, your reset date, and the wording for your medical carrier. And I'm logging three separate misstatements against the agency, because one is a slip and three is a pattern.

Grace: Choice Administrators, Grace speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Mateo: Mateo Okonjo, CON-117.

Grace: Thanks Mateo.

Mateo: Our staff have asked whether they can buy extra life cover themselves through the plan. Can we set that up?

Grace: Not through this programme, and it's worth being clear why rather than just no. Life here is employer-sponsored only — one hundred percent employer-paid, one hundred percent participation. There's no voluntary tier and no employee election.

Mateo: So what they have is what they have.

Grace: What you elect is what they have. If you want to increase the benefit, that's your election at renewal and you'd pay for it across everyone.

Mateo: And if we went above a certain amount?

Grace: Then every eligible employee completes a statement of health, which is where take-up gets difficult. Most groups set the first year at or under the guaranteed issue amount for exactly that reason.

Mateo: What's the amount?

Grace: That's a carrier figure I'd need to confirm rather than guess at, and I'll come back to you with it.

Mateo: And if someone genuinely wants more cover?

Grace: They buy it individually, outside the programme. Worth telling them plainly rather than leaving them waiting for something that isn't coming.

Mateo: Can you give me something I can circulate?

Grace: One page — what the group cover is, that it's employer-paid, and that individual top-up sits outside. Going out today.

Linda: Choice Administrators, Linda speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Alicia: Alicia Quintero, CB-7700030.

Linda: Thanks Alicia.

Alicia: I submitted a claim for glasses six weeks ago. Nothing. No letter, no payment, no acknowledgement.

Linda: Six weeks is too long and I won't pretend otherwise. Let me see what I have... received on the twenty-ninth of May, status pending.

Alicia: Pending why?

Linda: That's what I can't tell you. The claim detail sits with the carrier, not with us, so I can see that it's stuck and not why.

Alicia: That seems like a strange gap.

Linda: It is, and it's a fair thing to be annoyed about.

Alicia: So what can you do?

Linda: Two things honestly. I can raise a status enquiry, which gets a person looking at it rather than a queue position. And I can give you the carrier's own claims line, because you calling them will be faster than me relaying — they can see the claim and I can't.

Alicia: Then why would I call you at all?

Linda: For the things I can see, which is eligibility, your benefit position and your plan design. Claims detail isn't one of them. I'd rather tell you that than take three weeks proving it.

Alicia: Alright. Is there anything I can check my end?

Linda: One thing, and it's the commonest cause of a stalled out-of-network vision claim. Was the receipt itemised, with the frame and the lenses priced separately, or was it a single total?

Alicia: A single total.

Linda: Then that's very probably it. Ask the optician to reprint it itemised and send it in with the enquiry reference.

Alicia: Six weeks for a receipt format.

Linda: Six weeks in which nobody told you, which is the part I'm logging.

Ahmed: It listed two and both have closed.

Hugo: That I can report, and I will. Give me a moment on the current list... I'm seeing the same fifty-minute one and two retail locations that may be closer depending on where exactly you are.

Ahmed: Retail — a chain?

Hugo: Yes, and worth knowing: your carrier is stronger in independent optometry than in retail, which is why the list looks thin. Some members on other groups have the opposite problem.

Ahmed: Can I switch to the other one?

Hugo: Not individually. Carrier is a group-level choice, so that would be your employer's decision at renewal, not yours.

Ahmed: So I'm stuck with fifty minutes or a chain.

Hugo: Or out of network, where you'd pay up front and claim back against a schedule — less generous, but it exists and it means you can use somebody local.

Ahmed: How much less?

Hugo: I'll send you the out-of-network schedule so you can compare it against a local quote rather than guess.

Ahmed: And the two that have closed?

Hugo: Reported today. That's the part I can actually fix.

Priya: It isn't, unless your employer added a rider for it, and very few do. Let me check yours... no rider.

Lena: So that's all me.

Priya: All you. The copay covers the treatment, not anything dispensed alongside it.

Lena: She implied it was part of it.

Priya: Practitioners often do, and I don't think it's usually deliberate — herbal therapy is part of the treatment clinically and not part of it contractually. Those two things diverge and the patient pays the difference.

Lena: Anything else like that I should watch for?

Priya: Two. Equipment — supports, braces — has its own small annual cap, separate from your visits. And x-rays have another. Both are easy to run through without noticing because they don't feel like separate purchases.

Lena: And the visits themselves?

Priya: One annual maximum shared between acupuncture and chiropractic. If you've had chiropractic this year it's already drawn down.

Lena: I had four in February.

Priya: Then those count. I'd ring the carrier for your used and remaining number before you commit to a course — ask for the combined count, or they may quote you one side of it.

Lena: That's worth knowing. Thank you.

Denise: So I'm due.

Nicole: You're due. The exam runs every twelve months, so from the fourth of June this year.

Denise: And glasses?

Nicole: Frames can be a different cycle from the exam — on some designs twelve months, on others twenty-four. Yours is twenty-four, so frames are next June rather than this one.

Denise: So I can have the test but not new glasses.

Nicole: You can have the test, and if your prescription has changed you'd want new lenses — lenses run on the twelve-month cycle, not the frame one. So new lenses in your existing frames is covered.

Denise: I didn't know you could do that.

Nicole: Most people replace the whole thing and pay for a frame they didn't need. Ask the optician to reglaze.

Denise: That's saved me a couple of hundred dollars.

Nicole: It's the least-known thing on a vision plan. Book the exam.

Tony: They're both under the chiropractic benefit.

Sandra: That's what I'm asking. Is the number of visits shared?

Tony: Let me check the design. Bear with me.

[hold 2m 20s] Thanks for holding. There's an annual maximum on the line.

Sandra: One maximum for both, or one each?

Tony: It's stated on the line.

Tony: Yes.

Sandra: So one maximum.

Tony: That'd be the reading.

Sandra: That'd be the reading, or that's what it says?

Tony: It's a single figure on a single line.

Sandra: Then it's shared. How many have I used?

Tony: I don't hold the used count.

Tony: The carrier.

Sandra: So I ring them to find out how much of a shared allowance I've spent, having spent eleven minutes establishing that it's shared.

Tony: I can send you the maximum.

Sandra: Send the maximum. I'll get the count from them.

Adaeze: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Adaeze speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Gideon: Gideon Nkemdi, CON-108.

Adaeze: Thanks Gideon.

Gideon: Patricia Nunez sent me a checklist before renewal and one line says confirm participation. I want to be sure I'm confirming the right thing.

Adaeze: She's right to have it on the list. You're on voluntary dental, so the test is headcount rather than a percentage — minimum ten eligible with at least five enrolled.

Gideon: We've a hundred and eighty eligible and thirty-one enrolled.

Adaeze: Then you're clear with a lot of room. Percentages don't come into it on voluntary, which is the thing most employers get wrong.

Gideon: She'd told me the same. I wanted it from you as well.

Adaeze: Sensible, and I'd keep doing that on anything that decides a renewal.

Gideon: Anything else on the checklist I should take seriously?

Adaeze: One, and it's the one people skim. Every employee not enrolled needs a completed waiver on the enrolment form, and you have to retain it. If someone later says they never declined and seeks cover, the employer can be liable for the healthcare costs.

Gideon: We have those for most of them.

Adaeze: Most isn't the standard. I'd audit it before renewal rather than after a claim.

Gideon: Can you tell me who's missing one?

Adaeze: That I can't — we hold the enrolments, you hold the waivers. It's your record and that's exactly why the liability sits with you.

Gideon: Fair enough. I'll go through it.

Adaeze: I'll send the requirement in writing so whoever does the audit knows what good looks like.

Michael: Choice Administrators, Michael speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Lorna: Lorna Sarkisian, CON-105.

Michael: Thanks Lorna.

Lorna: Three employees have asked about braces for their children. Stephen Vaught told me ortho is standard on every dental plan. I want to confirm before I reply to them.

Michael: Then I need to correct that, and it's a useful thing to have checked. Ortho is not standard. Availability depends on the carrier and the size of the group before any waiting period comes into it.

Lorna: So it might not be there at all.

Michael: On some carriers at some sizes, it simply isn't offered. Let me check yours... you're on MetLife, and at two hundred and forty eligible you clear their threshold comfortably. So on your group it is available.

Lorna: So he was right.

Michael: He was right about your group and wrong as a general statement, and that distinction matters because he'll be saying it to smaller clients where it isn't true. I'm recording it.

Lorna: What do I tell the three?

Michael: That it's available, that it's typically covered at a percentage up to a lifetime maximum rather than an annual one, and that there's a waiting period they should check against their own effective date before anyone signs a treatment plan.

Lorna: How long?

Michael: Twelve months on most designs. And there's a takeover credit if they came from comparable prior cover — worth them asking rather than assuming.

Lorna: They'll all ask me for numbers.

Michael: I'll send you the ortho terms for your design so you can circulate one document rather than answer three times.

Deon: I don't want to quote a figure I'm not certain of.

Yolanda: Then who is certain?

Deon: The carrier holds the full schedule.

Yolanda: Right. And separately — I didn't ask for the coating.

Deon: That'd be between you and the practice.

Yolanda: Even if they've added something I didn't consent to?

Deon: We'd only see what was claimed.

Yolanda: So you can't tell me the price and you can't tell me whether I agreed to it.

Danielle: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Danielle speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Quill: Quill Lindqvist, CON-107.

Danielle: Thanks Quill.

Quill: I keep getting grace period notices and we pay every month without fail. I've three of them on my desk.

Danielle: Then let me check something before we go further, because the commonest cause of that isn't late payment at all. What do you think the invoice covers — the month just gone or the month ahead?

Quill: The month just gone. Like every other bill.

Danielle: That's it. Our statement bills the month ahead. The one issued on the first of August is for September coverage and it's due on the twentieth of August.

Quill: So paying it in September is a month late.

Danielle: Every time, permanently, and because payments apply to the oldest open balance first, each payment clears last month and never catches up.

Quill: Four years we've been doing that.

Danielle: And the notices are correct, which is the uncomfortable part.

Quill: How do we fix it?

Danielle: You have to pay two months at some point. That's the only way out and there isn't a clever alternative.

Quill: Can we spread it?

Danielle: That's the bit I can't authorise — a payment arrangement goes to billing and they decide. What I can do is raise it with your history attached rather than leaving you to email in cold.

Quill: Do that. Anything else I should know?

Danielle: One thing that isn't about money. You're a hundred and eighty eligible, so you're on federal COBRA and the notification duty is solely yours, fourteen days from the last day of coverage. If billing has been distracting you from terminations, that's worth checking too.

Quill: I hadn't connected those.

Danielle: They're connected by the same inbox. I'll send both in writing.

Vera: That's the second thing she's got wrong.

James: It's recorded. Can I give you the whole list so you're not checking one item at a time?

Vera: Please.

James: Renewal only: contribution, the waiting period, minimum hours for eligibility, chiro plan design, and moving a line between voluntary and employer-sponsored.

Vera: So most of the money.

James: Most of the money. Once a year and at renewal: adding chiro, adding life. And at any time: address, company name, contact, tax ID, a Section 125 plan, employer-sponsored vision, and terminating a line.

Vera: I can terminate a line at any time but not change what I pay towards it.

James: Correct, and I know how that sounds. Termination is thirty days' notice in writing on letterhead from someone authorised.

Vera: When's our anniversary?

James: First of January, so your window opens in December.

Vera: Then I'll plan for December. Send me the three lists.

James: Going out today. And I'd ask for product rules in writing from now on — from her, and from me.

Nadira: So there's nobody named?

Grace: Let me check... there's no designation on file for you.

Nadira: And if something happened?

Grace: Then the benefit follows the policy's default order rather than your wishes, and in practice it usually means probate, delay and cost at exactly the point a family can least absorb it.

Nadira: That's not what we were told.

Grace: No. I'm recording it, because if he said it to you he said it to the room.

Nadira: How do I fix it?

Grace: A designation form. It takes five minutes and you can change it as often as you like at no cost.

Nadira: I'd want it split between my two sons.

Grace: Then one thing before you write their names down. How old are they?

Nadira: Nine and fourteen.

Grace: An insurer won't pay directly to a minor. It goes to a court-appointed guardian, which is slow and expensive. Most people name a trust or an adult they trust instead — but that's a legal decision and I'm not the person to advise you on which.

Nadira: So I should speak to someone.

Grace: Speak to someone, but file the form now naming whoever you'd choose today. An imperfect designation beats none, and you can revisit it.

Nadira: Send me the form.

Adaeze: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Adaeze speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Sunil: Sunil Baptiste, CON-111.

Adaeze: Thanks Sunil.

Sunil: Two people asked to come off the dental in April. I filed it in June. They want April and May back and they're being difficult about it.

Adaeze: They won't get it, and I'd rather you heard the reason than just the answer. A voluntary withdrawal takes effect the last day of the month following receipt. Never backdated — not to when they asked you, not to when they asked us.

Sunil: So it's the filing delay.

Adaeze: The delay changes the date but not the principle. If they'd rung us themselves in April, the answer would have been end of May, not April.

Sunil: So they'd have lost a month regardless.

Adaeze: At least a month, yes. That's worth saying to them, because at the moment they think this is your error costing them money.

Sunil: When do they come off?

Adaeze: Filed in June, so end of July.

Sunil: And there's something else they won't like, I assume.

Adaeze: There is, and it causes the second call every time. Once out, they can't come back until renewal. Not on a qualifying event, not if they change their mind.

Sunil: Neither of them knows that.

Adaeze: Almost nobody does. Tell them before July rather than in November.

Sunil: Can I short-pay the invoice in the meantime?

Adaeze: That's the one thing I'd ask you not to do. Pay as billed, and the credit appears once the termination processes. Short-paying means we chase a balance and a correction together and it takes twice as long.

Sunil: And if the credit doesn't appear?

Adaeze: Ring me. I can't give you a date because the reconciliation sits with billing, and I'm not going to invent one.

Sunil: Fair. Send me the rule and I'll forward it to them.

Hugo: Nobody, and you can keep the referral for your own records. There's no authorisation on this line at all.

Cormac: No approval needed?

Hugo: None. You self-refer to any in-network practitioner, nobody reviews whether the treatment is necessary, and you can change practitioner whenever you like without telling anyone.

Cormac: That's unusually simple.

Hugo: It is, and the problem is the opposite of what you'd expect — people wait weeks for an approval that was never required.

Cormac: So I just book.

Hugo: Just book. Two things to know before you do. There's a flat copay per visit, no deductible and no percentage. And there's an annual maximum on visits, shared between acupuncture and chiropractic.

Cormac: I've not had chiropractic.

Hugo: Then the whole allowance is available to you. If you're starting a course, ask the practitioner how many sessions they're planning and check it against the maximum before session one rather than session twelve.

Cormac: What's my maximum?

Hugo: On your benefit summary, and I'll send it today so you've got the number rather than a typical one.

Cormac: Thank you. That's saved me a fortnight.

Quill: Quill Lindqvist, CON-107.

Kayla: Thanks. How can I help?

Quill: One of my employees has asked whether implants are covered and I said I'd find out.

Kayla: Implants vary.

Quill: Vary between plans, or vary by case?

Kayla: Both.

Quill: Can you look at our plan?

Kayla: It'd be on the benefit summary.

Quill: Which I have, and it doesn't mention implants.

Kayla: Then it may fall under major services.

Quill: May, or does?

Kayla: It'd depend on the coding.

Quill: What coding? He hasn't had it done yet.

Kayla: The carrier would determine it from the claim.

Quill: So he has to have the work done to find out if it's covered.

Kayla: Or ask the dentist.

Quill: The dentist told him to ask us.

Kayla: It'd be the carrier really.

Quill: Right.

Noor: Noor Nkemdi, CB-7700071.

Hugo: Thanks Noor.

Noor: How do I find an acupuncturist who takes this? The finder only seems to list chiropractors.

Hugo: Same network, but you have to filter for it — the default view is chiropractic and acupuncture is a specialty tick-box most people never see.

Noor: That would explain a lot.

Hugo: It explains most of this call when people make it. Search on Landmark, set the specialty to acupuncture, and the list changes completely.

Noor: Do I need anything from my doctor?

Hugo: Nothing. No referral, no authorisation, and you can change practitioner whenever you want.

Noor: And it comes out of the same visits as chiropractic?

Hugo: Same annual maximum shared between the two. Worth knowing before you book a course.

Noor: I've had none this year.

Hugo: Then it's all available. I'll send you the filter instructions and your maximum.

Noor: Thank you — I'd assumed it wasn't covered at all.

Deon: Choice Administrators, Deon speaking, this call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Juno: Juno Nakamura, CB-7700025.

Deon: Go ahead.

Juno: Two things. I paid a hundred and sixty more than I expected on glasses, and separately my daughter's been told she can't have contacts because I took glasses.

Deon: Let me take them one at a time. The glasses first.

Juno: Frame was two hundred and ninety.

Deon: And the allowance is a hundred and thirty, so a hundred and sixty is the difference.

Juno: So that's just the arithmetic. Fine. But the second one — my daughter is a separate person.

Deon: The benefit is per covered person.

Juno: Then why has she been refused?

Deon: Let me look. Bear with me.

[waits]

[hold 2m 15s] Thanks for holding. She's showing as having had a hardware claim.

Juno: When?

Deon: There's a claim on her record.

Juno: For what? She's fifteen, I'd know.

Deon: It's a hardware line.

Juno: Glasses or contacts?

Deon: It's coded as hardware.

Juno: That's not an answer. Either she's had glasses or she hasn't.

Deon: I can see the claim but not the item.

Juno: Could it be mine posted to her record?

Deon: That's possible.

Juno: Can you check?

Deon: I'd need the claim detail from the carrier.

Juno: Then get it, because if my glasses have been posted to my daughter she's lost a year's benefit.

Deon: I can raise a query.

Juno: Raise it.

Linda: Choice Administrators, Linda speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Grace: Grace Bonaventura, CB-7700033.

Linda: Thanks Grace.

Grace: The optician's quoted me for photochromic lenses and I want to know what the plan pays before I say yes.

Linda: Photochromic is a lens enhancement, so it carries its own copay rather than being covered by the base lens benefit.

Grace: How much is the copay?

Linda: That's the one I can't give you accurately — enhancement copays sit in the carrier's schedule at a detail level I don't hold, and a wrong number today is worse than none.

Grace: So who can?

Linda: The optician, in two minutes. Ask them to run a benefit breakdown before they order. It itemises what the plan pays and what's yours, and it's the single most useful thing on a vision plan that nobody offers.

Grace: They just quoted me a total.

Linda: A total tells you nothing about which part is the enhancement. Ask for it split.

Grace: And if they won't?

Linda: Then ring the carrier directly before you commit. I'd rather send you to them than have you find out on the bill.

Grace: Fair enough. Can you send me my allowances at least?

Linda: Allowances and the wording to use, going out today.

Michael: Choice Administrators, Michael speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Noor: Noor Cruz, CB-7700045.

Michael: Thanks Noor.

Noor: Stephen Vaught told us cleanings don't count against the annual maximum. Mine seem to be counting.

Michael: Let me check your design rather than the general rule, because this genuinely differs between carriers.

Noor: Go on.

Michael: You're on MetLife, and on that design preventive is excluded from the maximum — so he's right in principle. But your maximum has moved, which means something else was counted.

Noor: Two cleanings and a set of x-rays.

Michael: X-rays are usually diagnostic rather than preventive, and on some designs they sit inside the maximum. That would explain the movement.

Noor: So he was half right.

Michael: He was right about cleanings and didn't mention x-rays, which is the half that costs you. I'm recording it.

Noor: How much has gone?

Michael: A hundred and forty of fifteen hundred, so not serious — but if you're planning major work this year you'd want to know.

Noor: I am. A crown in the autumn.

Michael: Then it matters. What I can't tell you is the exact classification of that x-ray code on your design, and I'd rather confirm it than guess. I'll come back to you.

Noor: Please. And can you send the maximum in writing?

Michael: Both together.

Sarah: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Sarah speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Abel: Abel Fontaine, CB-7700053.

Sarah: Thanks Abel.

Abel: I'm on the plan where everything's a fixed copay. I've had a bill for a hundred and ninety and I don't think I should have.

Sarah: On a DHMO you generally shouldn't receive a bill for anything your assigned dentist provided or referred. What's it for?

Abel: It says surgical extraction.

Sarah: Then let me check it against your copayment schedule... surgical extraction has a copay of sixty-five on your design.

Abel: So they've charged me a hundred and twenty-five too much.

Sarah: That's what it looks like, and the likeliest explanation is innocent — practices often bill their full fee and adjust when the plan payment posts.

Abel: So I wait?

Sarah: I'd ring them rather than wait. Say you're on the DHMO, quote the sixty-five copay, and ask them to rebill.

Abel: And if they won't?

Sarah: Then it's a contract matter between the practice and the carrier, not between you and them, and the carrier handles it. I'm sending you the schedule line so you have the number in front of you.

Abel: That's exactly what I needed.

Sarah: If they push back, ring me and I'll route it.

Carlos: Thanks Yusuf. Go ahead.

Yusuf: There's a claim on my statement for a deep cleaning in four quadrants. I've never had a deep cleaning. I went in for a check-up.

Carlos: That's a serious thing to say and I want to be careful with it rather than brush past it. Let me open the claim... periodontal scaling, four quadrants, the eleventh of June.

Yusuf: I was there on the eleventh. For twenty minutes.

Carlos: Four quadrants of scaling is not a twenty-minute appointment.

Yusuf: No.

Carlos: Then I'm not going to close this as a billing query. A claim for treatment the member says was not delivered goes to Provider Relations as a review, not to me as an adjustment.

Yusuf: What happens to my money?

Carlos: I'm reversing your liability now so you're not carrying it while it's looked at. That's within what I can do and it doesn't prejudge the outcome.

Yusuf: And the practice?

Carlos: Provider Relations contact them. If a pattern shows up across that practice it goes considerably further than your claim, which is why it's worth reporting rather than just disputing.

Yusuf: Will anybody tell me?

Carlos: You'll get the reference within the hour and a named contact by end of day. I'm also noting that four quadrants restored to your annual maximum, because otherwise you'd find that missing in November.

Yusuf: I hadn't thought of that.

Carlos: It's the part people lose.

Danielle: Then don't take that as final. There's a takeover credit for exactly that situation, and it's almost never mentioned to members.

Kamal: How does it work?

Danielle: With twelve consecutive months of comparable prior coverage the wait is waived. No partial credit — eleven months gets nothing.

Kamal: I had three years.

Danielle: Then you qualify on the test. What's missing is the proof: nothing on file evidences it, so the screen shows the wait.

Kamal: What proof?

Danielle: A certificate of coverage from your previous carrier showing twelve consecutive months. Standard document, they're obliged to issue it.

Kamal: And then it comes off?

Danielle: That's the part I can't promise. I submit it, and the decision sits with underwriting rather than with me. I'd rather say that than have you book the work on my say-so.

Kamal: How long?

Danielle: Usually a couple of weeks once they have it.

Imani: I need an annual retinal screening and I've been told the vision plan covers it. It's been refused.

Grace: Then the refusal is probably right and the advice was wrong, and the distinction will save you money rather than cost it.

Imani: Go on.

Grace: A screening done because of a medical condition is a medical service, not a vision one. Vision covers the routine exam and the hardware. Medical eye care belongs to your medical plan.

Imani: So I should claim it there.

Grace: You should, and it's usually better cover than vision would have given — often no allowance cap at all.

Imani: Nobody explained that. We were told vision covers eye health.

Grace: It covers the exam that detects a problem. It doesn't cover managing one. Those get described as the same thing far too often and I'm recording it.

Imani: What do I need?

Grace: The optometrist's coding showing the medical indication. Ask them to bill it medically in the first place next time — they often can and rarely ask.

C-0188 — Enrollment & ID Cards

EMPLOYER · CON-102 | RESOLVED | score 86/100 | agent AGT-05|Adaeze Nwosu

Adaeze: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Adaeze speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Duncan: Duncan Raman, CON-102.

Adaeze: Thanks Duncan.

Duncan: We want to add vision. Marcus Trent says it has to wait for January. That's five months and my staff keep asking.

Adaeze: It doesn't have to wait. Employer-sponsored vision is one of the few things you can add at any point in the year — it isn't tied to your anniversary.

Duncan: He was quite firm about it.

Adaeze: He may be thinking of chiro or life, which are once a year and at renewal. Vision isn't on that list. I'm recording the misstatement.

Duncan: So what's the requirement?

Adaeze: Depends how you buy it. Employer-sponsored needs seventy percent participation and a minimum of two enrolled. Voluntary has no minimum participation requirement at all.

Duncan: None?

Adaeze: None. Vision is the only line where that's true, which is why it gets confused with dental.

Duncan: We're four hundred and twenty. Seventy percent is a lot to promise.

Adaeze: Then voluntary removes the risk entirely for a first year. You'd contribute nothing and take-up would be lower, but nothing is at stake if it's low.

Duncan: And move it later?

Adaeze: At renewal, once you know the numbers. That's what I'd do.

Duncan: Who do I go to for rates?

Adaeze: Your broker or sales. I'm flagging the interest on the account today so it doesn't depend on him, and sending both participation rules in writing.

Priya: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Priya speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and group number?

Sandra: Sandra Nasser, CON-104.

Priya: Thanks Sandra.

Sandra: We're thinking about adding the chiropractic line. Half my kitchen staff have back problems and a few have asked about acupuncture as well.

Priya: Then the good news first — it's one line, not two. Chiropractic and acupuncture come together, same network, same copay, one shared visit maximum.

Sandra: That's better than I expected.

Priya: The part that surprises employers is the payment rule. It has to be one hundred percent employer-paid and one hundred percent participation. There's no voluntary option and nobody can opt out.

Sandra: So I pay for all three hundred and ten of them whether they use it or not.

Priya: For everyone eligible, yes. That's a very different budget conversation from vision, which can be voluntary with no minimum at all.

Sandra: Nobody mentioned that.

Priya: It's the single most common surprise on that line, and it's better had now than in December.

Sandra: Anything else?

Priya: One. Landmark's insured plans are California only. If you have staff out of state they'd have no cover at all — not reduced, none, and there's no out-of-network payment.

Sandra: We're all in one county.

Priya: Then that isn't your problem. Adding chiro is once a year and at renewal, so January is your window.

Sandra: Send me the rules and I'll take it to the owner.

Zora: I want to know what happens to my life cover when I turn sixty-five. I'm sixty-three.

Tony: There's usually a reduction schedule.

Zora: At what ages and by how much?

Tony: It varies by policy.

Zora: Can you look at mine?

Tony: Let me check. Bear with me.

[waits]

[hold 2m 25s] Thanks for holding. I can see the benefit amount.

Zora: That's today's amount. I'm asking about sixty-five.

Tony: The schedule would be in the certificate.

Zora: Which I've never seen.

Tony: It'd have been issued at enrolment.

Zora: Nadine Frost ran our enrolment. I got a leaflet.

Tony: The certificate comes from the carrier.

Zora: Can you request it?

Tony: I can request a copy.

Zora: How long?

Tony: A week or so.

Zora: I'm trying to plan retirement. Is it typically thirty-five percent off, or half?

Tony: I'd rather not quote a typical figure.

Zora: Then I'll wait for the certificate and hope it's readable.

Tony: I'll request it today.

Gilles: Gilles Okafor, CB-7700057. Patricia Nunez's summary says I have an assigned dentist, which I'd forgotten, and I need to take my six-year-old somewhere.

Nicole: Then two useful things. Your assigned practice is on file and I'll read it to you — but for a child under fourteen you don't have to use them.

Gilles: We can go elsewhere?

Nicole: To a paediatric dentist, yes, without a referral. It's the one exception to the assigned-dentist rule on this plan and almost nobody knows about it.

Gilles: That's genuinely helpful. Does she need to be in the network?

Nicole: She does — it's a network paediatric dentist, not any dentist. But you can choose which.

Gilles: And for me?

Nicole: You'd stay with the assigned practice unless you ask the carrier to change it, which you can do at any time if your own dentist is in their network.

Gilles: Worth doing.

Nicole: Worth asking the practice whether they take DeltaCare USA specifically, not Delta Dental generally. Different networks, and that catches people out constantly.

Gilles: Noted. Thank you.

Perrine: My periodontal treatment has been denied. Eight hundred dollars.

Elena: Let me look. The reason is no authorisation.

Perrine: My dentist referred me.

Elena: A referral and an authorisation are different.

Perrine: How different? He wrote to them.

Elena: The authorisation comes from the carrier.

Perrine: So somebody should have asked them.

Elena: The referring dentist submits it.

Perrine: Did he?

Elena: There's no authorisation on the claim.

Perrine: So he didn't, or it was refused?

Elena: There isn't one recorded.

Perrine: Which of those two is it?

Elena: I can only see that there isn't one.

Perrine: Can it be done now, after the treatment?

Elena: Authorisation is normally before.

Perrine: Normally. Is there any route afterwards?

Elena: There can be a reconsideration.

Perrine: How do I ask for one?

Elena: Through the carrier.

Perrine: Will they say yes?

Elena: I couldn't say.

James: Thanks Maya.

Maya: I want a second pair for driving. Is there anything?

James: Not a second benefit — it's one pair per period. But there is a discount most people never hear about.

Maya: Go on.

James: Twenty percent off additional glasses from any VSP doctor, for twelve months from your last exam. It applies to a complete second pair including prescription sunglasses.

Maya: When was my exam?

James: The nineteenth of March, so you've until next March.

Maya: And I just ask?

James: Ask by name, because they won't volunteer it. And go back to the practice that did the exam if you can — it's simplest there.

Maya: What about my prescription changing in between?

James: If it changes materially, tell them. A genuine prescription change sometimes opens the hardware benefit early, which is a better outcome than a discount.

Maya: That's two things I didn't know. Thank you.

Zadie: Zadie Yamamoto, CON-113.

Adaeze: Thanks Zadie.

Zadie: After the life business last month I'm reviewing our whole leaver process. Six people are going in September. What should the pack contain?

Adaeze: Good instinct. You're two hundred and eighty eligible, so federal COBRA — the continuation notice is solely yours, within fourteen days of cover ending.

Zadie: We have that.

Adaeze: Then the piece almost certainly missing is life conversion. Thirty-one days from the day group cover ends, no medical questions at all, and the initial notification is your responsibility.

Zadie: It's not in our template.

Adaeze: It's in almost nobody's, and I'm logging that it isn't in our standard leaver pack either — that's ours to fix, not yours.

Zadie: What do I actually give them?

Adaeze: The rule, the carrier's number, and the exact date their window closes. On paper, per person, because a policy statement won't land during a redundancy conversation.

Zadie: Can you give me the dates if I send the list?

Adaeze: Send me the six last days and I'll send back six closing dates. That's the most useful thing I can do.

Zadie: And the quote?

Adaeze: The carrier issues that to the individual only — you can't collect it for them. Worth saying up front so you don't promise it.

Sarah: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Sarah speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Jolene: Jolene Sorensen, CB-7700019.

Sarah: Thanks Jolene.

Jolene: Two things and I think they contradict each other. My maximum is exhausted with two crowns to go. But my statement in January said my maximum was seventeen fifty, not fifteen hundred, so I thought I had room.

Sarah: They don't contradict, and both are true. Let me take the seventeen fifty first because that one is in your favour.

Jolene: Go on.

Sarah: That's a rewards carryover. Use less than a threshold in a year and some benefit carries forward — usually two hundred and fifty, plus more again for staying in network. So you did have seventeen fifty.

Jolene: And I've used all of it.

Sarah: All of it. Preventive doesn't count against it on your design, so that's genuine treatment.

Jolene: So the crowns are full price.

Sarah: Not full price, and this is the part almost nobody is told. The plan pays nothing further this year, but your dentist's contract with the carrier still governs what they can charge you. Network pricing continues after the maximum stops.

Jolene: How much difference?

Sarah: Network dentists have agreed to charge twenty-five to fifty percent below their usual rates. On two crowns that's several hundred dollars.

Jolene: And if I went elsewhere?

Sarah: Full fee, no contracted rate, no plan contribution. It matters more now than when you had benefit left.

Jolene: Anything else I should be weighing?

Sarah: One crown now and one in January when the maximum resets — and your carryover may add to it again. That's a clinical decision for the dentist, but it's worth asking rather than doing both this month.

Jolene: Nobody has ever explained any of that.

Sarah: I'm logging that. The letter says maximum reached and stops.

Carlos: Thank you for calling Choice Administrators, Carlos speaking. This call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Dagny: Dagny Fontaine, CB-7700013.

Carlos: Thanks Dagny. Go ahead.

Dagny: My daughter was refused at the optician yesterday. She's twenty-three.

Carlos: She shouldn't be off at twenty-three. Let me look... she terminated at the end of July, on a record showing her date of birth as 2000.

Dagny: She was born in 2003.

Carlos: Then the record is wrong, the termination was wrong, and the appointment refusal follows from both.

Dagny: Can you correct it?

Carlos: Not directly, and here's the honest position. Dates of birth come through your employer's file, so the correction has to originate there. What I'm not doing is sending you to chase your own HR for something that has already cost your daughter an appointment.

Dagny: So what happens?

Carlos: I'm escalating to eligibility today as a data correction with a named owner, and they go to your employer for confirmation rather than you. I'm also flagging the terminated line so nothing processes further while it's contested.

Dagny: And the appointment?

Carlos: Once corrected, eligibility restores retroactively. If she went ahead and paid, keep the itemised receipt and it can be claimed.

Dagny: She was turned away.

Carlos: Then rebook, and I'll send a digital card with the carrier at the top so the practice searches the right system rather than ours.

Dagny: How long?

Carlos: Days rather than weeks with it escalated, but it depends how fast your employer confirms. Reference in your inbox within the hour.

Danielle: Then there's a provision that exists for exactly this and it needs raising before the twenty-fifth, not after.

Wilhelmina: Go on.

Danielle: On your plan, where there's no network specialist within the lesser of thirty-five miles or an hour's travel, you can be authorised to see one outside the network at network benefit.

Wilhelmina: Nobody has mentioned that.

Danielle: It isn't volunteered and it isn't automatic — it has to be authorised, and that's the part I'm going to start now.

Wilhelmina: What do you need?

Danielle: The surgeon's name and address, and confirmation from your dentist of the distance and that no closer option exists. I'll take what you have and chase the rest.

Wilhelmina: And if it's refused?

Danielle: Then you'd be choosing between ninety minutes and paying out of network, and I'd rather you knew which by the twentieth than on the day.

Wilhelmina: Can you get an answer by then?

Danielle: I'm escalating it as scheduled care at risk with the date attached, which puts it in front of a named person today rather than in a queue. I can't promise the decision, only that it gets made in time to be useful.

Priya: You're being told correctly, and I'd rather confirm it plainly than let you find out at a front desk. Landmark's insured plans are California only. Out of state there's no network and no out-of-network payment at all.

Kwesi: So I'm paying into something I cannot use.

Priya: Your employer is paying, since chiro is one hundred percent employer-paid. But the effect on you is exactly what you've said.

Kwesi: And the dental and vision?

Priya: Those travel — different carriers, different rules. Let me check yours specifically... your dental is a DHMO, which is also California only, so that's a second problem.

Kwesi: Two of the three.

Priya: Two of the three, and the dental one is fixable. Moving to an area where your carrier has no providers is a permitted mid-year plan change. You can switch to the PPO.

Kwesi: And the chiro?

Priya: Not fixable at member level. It's a group election and it's California-only.

Kwesi: Then honestly I'd rather come off the whole thing than keep paying attention to benefits I can't use.

Priya: That's noted as said, and I'm escalating it rather than logging it. A member telling us the programme has stopped working for them because they moved is a retention matter, and it goes to Account Management today — partly because you won't be the only one.

Kwesi: What do I do now?

Priya: Get the dental change in this week so there's no gap. I'll send you the form and the reference, and somebody named will come back on the rest.

Deon: Choice Administrators, Deon speaking, this call may be recorded for quality and training. Name and member ID?

Zora: Zora Ruiz, CB-7700075.

Deon: Go ahead.

Zora: I've been refused a cleaning and told I've had too many.

Deon: There's a frequency limit.

Zora: How many do I get?

Deon: It's usually two.

Zora: I've had two. So the third is refused, which I understand. What I want to know is when the next one is due.

Deon: It'd be from the last one.

Zora: From the last one plus what?

Deon: It depends whether it's twice per calendar year or once per six months.

Zora: Which is mine?

Deon: Let me check. Bear with me.

[waits]

[hold 2m 20s] Thanks for holding. The design lists a frequency.

Zora: And?

Deon: It's stated per period.

Zora: Which period? That's the entire question.

Deon: The benefit period.

Zora: Is the benefit period the calendar year or twelve months from my last visit?

Deon: It'd be the plan year.

Zora: When does my plan year start?

Deon: That'd be the group's anniversary.

Zora: Which is?

Deon: I'd need to check the group.

Zora: Please.

Deon: It isn't showing on this screen.

Zora: So I can't book a cleaning because nobody can tell me what month my year starts.

Deon: The practice may be able to check.

Zora: I'll ask them.
